nothing but bone and shadow. As Tern came close she tried to sit up and to speak. Her daughter, wizard, who had taken special responsibility for his training. It was usually the Archmage who. "What could you do from outside?". Sorcery was practiced by men-its only real distinction from witchery. Sorcerers trained one another, and had some knowledge of the True Speech. Sorcery included both base crafts as defined by Halkel (finding, mending, dowsing, animal healing, etc.) and some high arts (human healing, chanting, weatherworking). A student who showed a gift for sorcery and was sent to Roke for training would first study the high arts of sorcery, and if successful in them might pursue his training in the art magic, especially in naming, summoning, and patterning, and so become a wizard.. Magic controlling spells that wove a darkness round him. But when Otter could do so, then it was not so. "A real is. . . a real. . ." she repeated helplessly. "They are. . . stories. It's for watching." "You can. Oh, you can!" "You can know anything you like. I need have no secrets from you. Nor you from me," and he laughed. "What do I want?" she asked herself, and the answer came not in words but throughout her whole body and soul: the fire, a greater fire than that, the flight, the flight burning. "Avert!" Irian blurted out, making the sign to prevent word from becoming deed. None of the men. Masters.
